PhD study in the Department of Geography, University of Hong Kong
(To commence in September, 2021)

Applicants should hold (i) a Bachelor's or a Master's degree in Computer Science/Atmospheric Science/Meteorology/Geography or closely related disciplines; (ii) proficiency in python or Fortran programming; (iii) knowledge and experience using HPC cluster, and (iv) preferably familiarity with air pollution or climate modeling. The successful candidate will involve in air quality and climate related studies using WRF and CMAQ models led by Dr. Nicky Y.F. LAM. If you are interested, please send your CV, cover letter, and other supporting documents at yunlam@hku.hk for consideration.

For more information, please visit https://www.gradsch.hku.hk/gradsch/programmes/doctor-of-philosophy-phd, and https://www.geog.hku.hk